				stamina for writing by: writing for different purposes				drawing on independent reading and research, choosing ideas for impact and to enhance the effectiveness of what they write.
Planning and Drafting Writing	Use some of their print and letter knowledge in their early writing. For example: writing a pretend shopping list that starts at the top of the page; writing 'm' for mummy.	Compose a simple sentence for writing (orally and count words)	Write sentences by: saying out loud what they are going to write about	Consider what they are going to write before beginning by: planning or saying out loud what they are going to write about	Plan their writing by: discussing and recording ideas	Plan their writing by: discussing and recording ideas by independently, selecting the most relevant information, key vocabulary and most suitable ideas drawn from discussion and notes to plan own writing: e.g. takes notes during discussion and organises them later into a 'boxing up' frame or story mountain.	Plan their writing by: noting and developing initial ideas, drawing on reading and research where necessary	Plan their writing by: noting and developing initial ideas, drawing on reading and research where necessary think aloud and record their ideas, sometimes drawing on independent reading and research, choosing ideas for impact and to enhance the effectiveness of what they write: e.g. selecting from a range of planning models to organise and develop related ideas drawn from notes made when reading and researching.
		Write words and then short sentences with words with known sound-letter correspondences  Use finger spaces, capital letters and full stop.  Re-read what they have written to check that it makes sense.	Write sentences by: composing a sentence orally before writing it  Write sentences by: sequencing sentences to form short narratives  Write sentences by: re-reading what they have written to check that it makes sense	Consider what they are going to write before beginning by: encapsulating what they want to say, sentence by sentence  Consider what they are going to write before beginning by: writing down ideas and/or keywords, including new vocabulary	Draft and write by: composing and rehearsing sentences orally (including dialogue), progressively building a varied and rich vocabulary and an increasing range of sentence structures (English Appendix 2)  Pupil can usually organise their material into logical chunks and write a coherent series of linked sentences for each: e.g. Bees live together in big groups. The Queen bee is the mother of all the workers. Bees work	Draft and write by: composing and rehearsing sentences orally (including dialogue), progressively building a varied and rich vocabulary and an increasing range of sentence structures by independently, composing and orally rehearsing sentences usually incorporating new vocabulary. Variation in sentence structure includes simple, compound and complex structures.(English Appendix 2)	Draft and write by: usually using a wide range of devices to build cohesion within and across paragraphs  Pupil can usually draw on what they have learned about how authors develop characters and settings to help them create their own: e.g. planning two or three main characters who are clearly distinguishable from each other and placing them in a setting modelled on a favourite story or pupil's own locality.	Draft and write by: using a wide range of devices to build cohesion within and across paragraphs  Pupil can draw imaginatively on what they have learned about how authors develop characters and settings to help them create their own: e.g. drawing on known characters and adapting them, taking elements from different settings and combining them in new ways.

					together to feed each other and look after the larvae. Pupil knows how to demarcate paragraphs on the page and usually remembers to do this as they write. Pupil can usually create an appropriate setting, two or three distinguishable characters and a coherent plot, drawing on but adapting elements of the modelled story. Pupil can usually marshal their material into logical chunks and write an appropriate main heading for the text and suitable subheadings for each chunk.	Pupil can, independently, plan narrative and non-fiction texts into paragraphs before they begin to write: e.g. by using a 'boxing up' frame, five-part story mountain, story map or other planning tool to help 'chunk' their writing into paragraphs. Pupil knows how to demarcate paragraphs on the page and usually remembers to do this as they write. Pupil can usually create an appropriate setting, two or three distinguishable characters and a coherent plot. Descriptions contain some detail: e.g. Kim huddled deeper into the hairy wool jumper gran had knitted. 'It's too cold out here, I want go back home.' 'Don't be such a baby!' snapped Tyler, bossily, 'Look, the car's coming!' Pupil can usually cluster related information logically and write an engaging main heading for the text and relevant subheadings for each paragraph.	Pupil can usually select appropriate grammar and vocabulary and is beginning to understand how such choices can change and enhance meaning: e.g. make deliberate vocabulary choices for effect, select specialist vocabulary to match the topic. Pupil can usually précis longer passages: e.g. identify key points from the passage and reformulate them coherently in their own words. Pupil can usually use some further organisational and presentational devices to structure text and to guide the reader: e.g. pose questions as heading or subheadings, use bullet points to organise material, integrate diagrams, charts or graphs. Gives examples: then, after that, this firstly	Pupil can usually select appropriate grammar and vocabulary and is able to make choices to change and enhance meaning: e.g. choose the most appropriate word from a range of synonyms or newly acquired subject specialist vocabulary, ensuring precision or expressing nuances of meaning. Pupil can usually précis longer passages, identifying key ideas, reformulating them coherently in their own words and justifying inclusions and exclusions. Pupil can usually use further organisational and presentational devices to structure text and to guide the reader: e.g. pose questions as heading or subheadings, use bullet points to organise material, integrate diagrams, charts or graphs; link closing to opening; include glossary, fact box etc.

							Pupil can usually identify examples of informal speech patterns and structures in their own and others' writing and amend or suggest amendments to reflect standard English usage where appropriate.	Pupil consciously chooses the appropriate register (standard or colloquial language as appropriate) for writing: e.g. casual language for an email or text to a close friend, more formal constructions when writing to a supermarket manager asking for donations to the class charity raffle.
Performing Writing			Pupil can read aloud their writing clearly enough to be heard by their peers and the teacher	Pupil can read aloud what they have written with appropriate intonation to make the meaning clear	Pupil can read their writing aloud with expression, loudly and clearly enough to be heard and understood by all.	Pupil can read loudly and clearly enough to be heard by all, pausing for punctuation and interpreting punctuation marks by intonation.	Pupil can perform their own compositions using appropriate intonation, volume, and movement so that meaning is clear, audience attention is maintained, and they speak loudly enough to be heard.	Pupil can perform their own compositions, using appropriate intonation, volume, and movement so that meaning is clear. They are able to monitor, maintain or regain audience engagement, speaking loudly enough to be heard.
Vocabulary	See EYFS progression framework for Communication and Language	See EYFS progression framework for Communication and Language	Develop their understanding of the concepts set out in English Appendix 2 by: leaving spaces between words	Learn how to use: expanded noun phrases to describe and specify: e.g. the blue butterfly	Pupil can usually use a range of prefixes to generate new nouns, ((super-, anti-) and use them appropriately in their independent writing.  Pupil can recognise related words from the same word family and usually deduces the meaning of related words correctly: e.g. recognises 'heard' within 'unheard' and 'misheard' and is able to use this knowledge to explain what both words mean.	Form nouns using prefixes (super-, anti-) (See Word Expert List)  Pupil can usually group words into two main families according to form and meaning. They can spot the common root words grouped by form: e.g. form: family - familiar - unfamiliar - familiarity - familiarise ..., meaning: big - little - size.	Pupil can usually use a thesaurus to introduce varied and precise vocabulary.  Pupil can usually use expanded noun phrases to convey precise and detailed information concisely: e.g. ...the small playground with the horizontal climbing wall...  Converting nouns or adjectives into verbs using suffixes: e.g. -ate; -ise; -fy  Pupil can use prefixes to generate new verbs: e.g. disapprove;	Pupil can usually use a thesaurus to introduce varied and precise vocabulary and successfully avoid repetitious or bland language.  Pupil can confidently and independently use expanded noun phrases to convey complicated information concisely: e.g. ...the younger predators with less experience of hunting and fewer successful kills...  Converting nouns or adjectives into verbs using suffixes: e.g. -ate, -ise, -ify overestimate, recombine.	Pupil can usually use prefixes to generate new verbs: e.g. disapprove; defuse, misunderstand, overestimate, recombine.

Grammar		Re-read what they have written to check that it makes sense.	Develop their understanding of the concepts set out in English Appendix 2 by: joining words and joining clauses using and	Learn how to use: subordination (using when, if, that, or because) and coordination (using or, and, or but) Learn how to use: sentences with different forms: statement, question, exclamation, command Learn how to use: the present and past tenses correctly and consistently including the progressive form Learn how to use: some features of written Standard English	Pupil can usually choose appropriate nouns or pronouns to create cohesion, avoid repetition and achieve clarity, applying the new learning in some independent writing: e.g. When I read that paragraph back I've used the word 'tigers' six times! I need to change some of them to 'they'. Pupil can write an increasing range of sentences with more than one clause using the conjunctions taught so far (including when, if, because, although) and applying the new learning across a range of independent writing: e.g. We still went on our class trip to the water park although it was raining when we set out. Pupil can usually use a range of appropriate conjunctions, adverbs and prepositions to express time and cause (and place) applying the new learning across a range of independent writing: e.g. After lunch, the boys went on the	Pupil can usually choose and correctly use nouns or pronouns to create cohesion, avoid repetition and achieve clarity, applying the learning across a wide range of independent writing. They should be able to explain why they have made their choice. e.g. When I was writing about bees, the hive and the queen, I remembered to write 'they', 'it' and 'she' every other time so my writing was less repetitive but still clear. Pupil can use a wide range of subordination conjunctions at the beginning and within sentences to add relevant detail to complex sentences: e.g. We put up our umbrellas when it rained. When it rained we put up our umbrellas. Pupil can usually use a wider range of appropriate conjunctions, adverbs and prepositions to express time and cause (and place) applying the new learning	Pupil can usually use relative clauses beginning with who, which, where, when, whose, that or with an implied (i.e. omitted) relative pronoun: e.g. The song (that) I like is being played on Radio Cornwall; The woman who moved in next door has a daughter my age; The boy whose cast you signed broke his leg playing rugby. Pupil can usually use modal verbs or adverbs to indicate degrees of possibility: e.g. there might be ... it could be ... we may be ... sometimes... possibly... occasionally. Pupil can usually use the present perfect form of verbs to mark relationships of time and cause: e.g. She has gone on holiday (and is not yet back, or we would write she went on holiday),The coach has left without you (because you have just arrived late). Pupil can use devices to build cohesion, including adverbials of time, place and	Pupil can confidently use embedded relative clauses beginning with who, which, where, when, whose, that or with an implied (i.e. omitted) relative pronoun to write complex sentences that sometimes use embedded relative clauses needing parenthetic commas: e.g. The riverbank where we used to play was washed away in last week's flood Pupil confidently uses modal verbs or adverbs to indicate degrees of possibility: e.g. might have done... could have acted... ought to have listened... should have known usually, frequently, probably, regularly, seldom, almost never. Pupil confidently uses the present perfect form of verbs to mark relationships of time and cause and is usually able to choose to use the past perfect form to mark relationships of time and cause: e.g. She had known for some time that the money was

					nature trail because we had been told there were some new ducklings and we wanted to see them. Pupil can select the appropriate tense for the task and apply the new learning across a range of independent writing: e.g. I hoped my team would win last week and they did, and I am hoping they will win again tomorrow. Pupil can decide whether a noun needs 'a' or 'an' in front of it and usually makes the right choice in independent writing: e.g. an apple, an orange and a banana.	across a range of independent writing, e.g. first, then, after, meanwhile, from, where. Despite the dark clouds, pupils were scurrying between the classroom and the field, hoping to finish their insect survey before the storm. uses fronted adverbials Pupil can explain the concept of verb tense. Pupil's writing shows growing awareness of how commonly used verbs are inflected in different tenses. Use of tense in writing is usually consistent with few lapses. Pupil is beginning to use the present perfect form in contrast to the past tense: e.g. I have read three books by that author; the librarian has told me the new title will be in shortly. uses standard English forms for verb inflections instead of local spoken forms Pupil can usually explain the rules for using 'a' or 'an' and give one or two example of each. Own writing shows some consistency in applying the rules: e.g. I know that 'a' and 'an' are only used with singular nouns. 'A' is used before a word starting	number: e.g. linking ideas within paragraphs using later, nearby, secondly.	missing but had hoped it would turn up. Using passive verbs to affect the presentation of information in a sentence Pupil can use devices to build cohesion, including adverbials of time, place and number: e.g. linking ideas within and across paragraphs using earlier, close to, thirdly.
